SUSPENSION NOTICE

Federal regulations require a student to make satisfactory academic progress (SAP) in order to continue to receive federal aid funds. Based on your most current semester, you have been placed on financial aid suspension based on one of the following reasons:

1. Your aid for the previous semester was awarded on a warning or probationary status. Warning or probationary status allowed you to receive aid for that semester with the stipulation you would need to complete all hours you received aid for with a 2.0 grade point average. You did not meet these criteria.

2. Your cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA) is below a 2.0.

3. You have attempted more than 96 credit hours or have completed your Associates Degree.

4. You failed to complete any hours successfully during the most recent semester.

Financial aid suspension means that you are not eligible to receive aid for the next semester. You have the right to appeal. An appeal form is available in your myAllen portal under the Finances tab – Financial Aid Document Tracking. Your appeal form must be received, along with supporting documentation, one week prior to the first day of the semester of enrollment for which you wish to be considered. Submission of an appeal form earlier will allow time to review and render a decision, which may make it more likely for you to process for the next semester timely. If your appeal is approved then you will be on financial aid probation.

In order to regain eligibility without the use of an appeal, you will need to complete the same number of hours you received aid for during the last semester at your own expense with a 2.0 grade point average and a cumulative GPA of 2.0. These hours may be completed in one semester or several semesters. During the semester(s) you are in attendance to regain eligibility, you must continue to meet Allen SAP requirements.
